

This installation is not contrary to the manufacturers Instructions for Continued Airworthiness.

Instructions for continued airworthiness for this alteration are contained in Report 7AC-003. It has been determined that this installation will have no adverse effect on any previously approved alteration.

The Weight and Balance data for the aircraft will be updated by weighing the aircraft when repairs are complete. The Equipment list has been updated.

The installer has determined that this installation will introduce no unsafe conditions with respect to any previously approved modifications.

End."

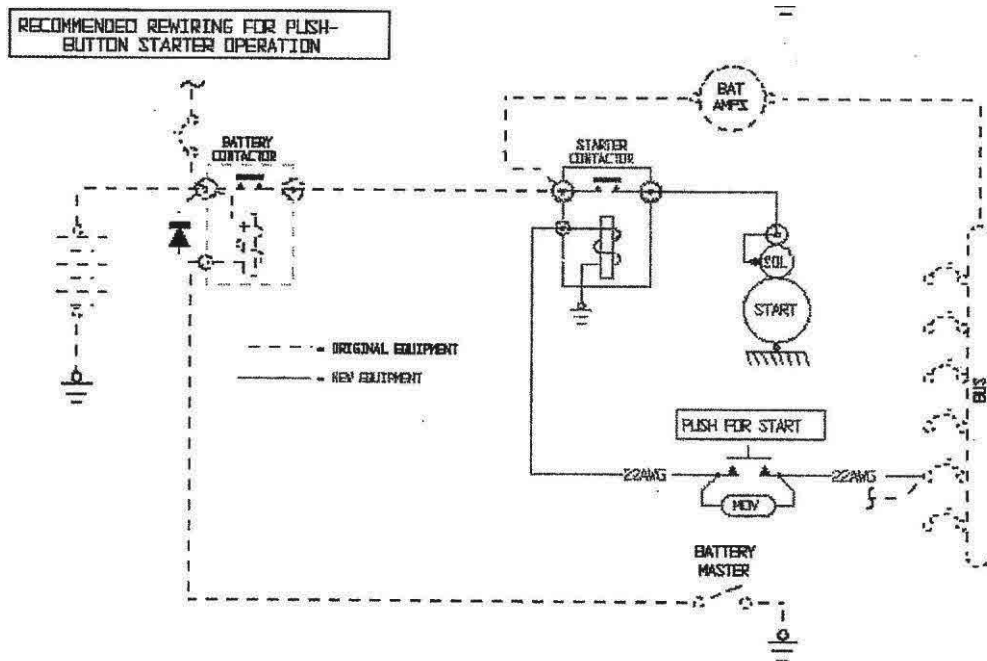

Figure 3. Push-Button Wiring